Bonita Springs, Florida

WHAT: Orthodox Christians in the Greater Naples/Ft Meyers Area are cordially invited to learn about the recently-concluded International Orthodox Theological Association (IOTA) Meeting held in Iasi, Romania on January 5-12, 2019. (Click here for videos from the event)

WHO: Guest Speaker will be Dr. Gayle Woloschak, currently a professor of Radiation Oncology at Northwestern University in Chicago and an adjunct professor of Religion and Science at Lutheran School of Theology Chicago, and at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary and St. Vladimir's Seminary. She holds a Ph.D. in Biomedical Sciences from the University of Toledo (Medical College of Ohio), and a D.Min. in Eastern Christian Studies from Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. Her laboratory interests include molecular biology, radiation biology and nano-biotechnology, and her science-religion fields include biological evolution, stem cell research, and ecology. Dr. Woloschak was one of the organizers of this amazing meeting, and she was one of the individuals who followed up on all the details during the conference. Others who attended the meeting will also give their impressions.
