Dear Friends,

We are thrilled to announce an extraordinary lineup of speakers for SUPRASL 2025, each bringing a unique perspective on how to live out the Orthodox Christian Creed in daily life. From pastoral ministry and missionary work to sustainable farming and theological scholarship, these seven inspiring individuals embody faith in action—transforming belief into tangible service to God and neighbor.

Fr. Seraphim Makhoul (Lebanon) returns with his dynamic pastoral care and poetic wisdom. Robert and Erin Lockridge (USA) demonstrate radical trust and community-building through their pay-what-you-can café. Nathan Hoppe (Albania) shares decades of missionary work in a post-communist context, while Davor Džalto (Bosnia/Sweden) explores the intersection of faith, creativity, and human freedom.

Fr. Stephen Platt (UK) brings his experience in youth ministry and ecumenical dialogue, Riina Nguyen (Finland) leads humanitarian efforts with theological insight, and Fr. Pawel Cecha (Belgium) engages in interchurch and youth work in the heart of Europe.

The global response to SUPRASL 2025 has been overwhelming—we've already received more applications than we have spaces! Yet it's not too late to apply, as we're still processing registrations. To learn more or to apply click here. Our growing participant list reflects the universal reach of Suprasl's mission, with attendees coming from Ghana, Uganda, Lebanon, Palestine, Australia, throughout Europe, the US and Mexico.

This incredible gathering of voices is made possible by your continued support of Suprasl's mission. Through your generosity, we are able to bring together these diverse witnesses to inspire, challenge, and equip participants to move from words to action.
